Our support continues to provide healing and hope to young people in today's troubled world!

Preparing kids to be safe from bullying

We served nearly 500,000 people in 2016 including:

- ✓ Over 100,000 young people have gained vital safety and confidence life skills through our partnerships with organizations, schools, and companies.
- ✓ Over 35,000 children, teens, and adults, including those with special needs, have benefited directly from our comprehensive in-person safety workshops in places where we have instructors.
- ✓ Over 27,000 people each month have taken advantage of our free website library and email coaching to help stop bullying, abuse, and violence.

As we look ahead to 2017, Kidpower is more committed than ever to helping people of different backgrounds, beliefs, and walks of life work together on our shared common ground of teaching skills for safety, respect, and confidence for everyone, everywhere.

Arnie & Rich have been supporting KIDPOWER over the past 25 years.
